COUNCIL IS NOW PUT ON RECORD

Only One Electric Track Will Be Allowed on Main Street.

ALL COMPANIES MUST USE IT

If They Would Carry Passengers in Coshocton—The Adamsville Road Wants a Franchise—Old Project Dead.

Ten minutes of eight o'clock found all members of council in their places ready to take up the street railway situation Thursday evening. This is what the meeting was to consider, and as soon as the minutes of the previous meeting were read the subject was opened by Councilman Brooke. The fifteen minutes in which it had been decided Tuesday evening the question could be settled lengthened out until two and a half hours were consumed before the decision was reached.

Mr. Brooke said: "I have not changed my mind since Tuesday evening. I have talked with several of the best posted men in Coshocton, and they are all of the opinion that we do not want to concede what this company demands. I believe in equality, and if all men are created equal and have equal rights so should all corporations have equal rights. We want all the roads to come in, but we want all to have equal rights. We are looking after the interests of the city and I think we would be doing a great injustice to allow this company to come in on the terms it demands. I think we ought to retain an equal interest for all companies desiring to come in. It will not be long until a line will be completed from Columbus to Newark and then it will come from Newark to Dresden, Coshocton and on to Dennison, and we will have the connection this company would give us beside the other cities it cannot give. I think we can wait awhile rather than give them an exclusive right. If we cannot get them on equitable terms we do not want them."

Judge Hunt asked Mr. Brooke if he thought it a good thing to have a line from Newark or Zanesville. Mr. Brooke replied "I am not afraid. Coshocton can compete with the business men of Newark, Zanesville and even Columbus. We have better stores than Newark and Zanesville and our business men are as shrewd."

"You talk different from other business men in the city. Is it your idea that all companies should come in on equal terms?"

"Yes sir."

Mr. Rinner then asked if the real point was not that the company wanted exclusive right on Main street, and Judge Hunt replied they only wanted what the statutes allowed or could be legally given them.

"Then what is it they are hedging on?" asked Mr. Rinner. "The statutes allow one-eighth but the other seven-eighths you can charge for as you please. There would be no arbiters to make reasonable rates between the companies."

Judge Hunt replied: "There is no use discussing what would be fair or what not fair. The company have stated what they will do and the question is whether you will concede what they demand."

Mr. Rinner said: "I believe every councilman wants the road but we do not want to do an injustice to either the company or the city. If one interurban is a benefit others would be also. We do not wish to discriminate against any company. If this company wants nothing but justice the clause in dispute as drafted by the solitor will give to them. If it was for two, five or even ten years it would not matter so much but for 25 years it is a grave question."

Mr. Timmons was in favor of conceding what the company demanded. He said. "I have not much to say. The company has made application and are only asking what we can legally give them. If we give them what they demand we will not shut out other interurban lines. If we bar this company it will be a barrier to others coming in. We are not going to be a Columbus or a Cincinnati soon. I would like to see Coshocton a city of 20,000 within 25 years. The more interurban roads the better. Give this company what it asks. It is the object of interurbans to get into the heart of the city and we will not bar any by giving this company what they demand."

Prosecutor Wheeler asked to be allowed a few words. He said: "I am representing the Zanesville and Adamsville company and came here to see what kind of a franchise ordinance you would pass. We have our right of way to the Coshocton county line and expect to present an application to council within two weeks. We want to come in on Main street and only expect to do what we would expect other companies to do. It involves the second company in endless litigation if an exclusive franchise is given. It is valuable to have exclusive right as the company owning it can exact what it pleases from other companies. We have the money back of us and expect to build the road within two years if we can get a franchise."

After a short debate between Prosecutor Wheeler and Judge Hunt Mr. Timmons moved an adjournment, but got no second.

Mr. Kuntz said: "When we left Tuesday evening we were to find out all we could. I have talked to several business men and they have enlightened me. I came here expecting to vote for this ordinance (meaning the one the company asked). I think the clerk ought to read it and let us vote on it."

After a few minutes debate Mr. Rinner said "I think we ought to pass one or the other at once," and Mr. Kuntz moved the reading of the ordinance as asked by the company. It was read and a motion for suspension of rules and the second reading was lost. All except Timmons and Kuntz voted no.

Mr. Rinner moved the reading of the ordinance drawn by Solicitor Voorhees. It was read and passed by suspension of the rules.

This seemed to settle the matter and council went home. It is possible nothing more will be heard of the Coshocton & Newcomerstown electric railway.

The ordinance passed contains the provisions that have twice appeared in THE AGE, and provides that Coshocton reserves the right to give other lines the privilege of using the Main street track, the companies interested settling compensation. If they cannot agree a board of arbitration is to make a settlement.

HOW IT IS ALL DONE

It's Quite a Job to Elect the President.

VOTE WILL BE TAKEN MONDAY

Three Copies Will Be Made, One for Transmission by Mail to Washington, One by Messenger and One to Keep.

On Monday the men who have been chosen by the people for the purpose of electing a president of the United States will meet at the capitals of 45 states and fulfill their duty. The business will be accomplished in the simplest manner possible, by a ballot, and in each case a statement of the result will be drawn up, three copies of it being duly made and signed. One of the copies will be sent to Washington by mail, the same will be forwarded to the same destination by a special messenger and the third will be placed in the hands of the judge of the district in which the electors have convened.

The job of reelecting Mr. McKinley was much more elaborate that most people realize, and it was only begun with the casting of the votes of the people last November. For the present occupant of the white house will not have been chosen as president lawfully, under the terms of the constitution, for some time yet to come, in fact, until the afternoon of February 13. Meanwhile the certificates of the accredited electors will be filed with the department of state. All of the 45 documents usually reach their destination safely, but if one of them should fail a duplicate is sent by a special messenger. There has only been one instance of the bearer of a document forwarded by an electoral college failing to deliver his parcel. That was the messenger from Florida in 1899, just before the count that made Benjamin Harrison president.

These messengers receive 25 cents a mile one way. The agent from the state of Washington has the greatest distance to go, and will draw $1,000 in mileage. The total expense to Uncle Sam for this special delivery service is about $12,000.

Each messenger, on arriving in Washington, will proceed at once to the capitol, and present himself before the president of the senate, to whom he will deliver the document he carries, sealed in an envelope. In return he will get a formal receipt, his duty being thereby ended. The unopened envelope will be placed in a small iron safe, so little that it might be carried away bodily by a couple of athletic burglars. This safe will be under constant guard day and night until the documents are finally removed.

At noon on February 13 the presiding officer of the senate will summon the doorkeeper of the august body, and taking the 45 sealed envelopes out of the strong box, will hand them to the latter official. The doorkeeper will place them in two wooden boxes made for the purpose, and carry them into the senate chamber. It is customary to make a fresh pair of boxes for each new presidential election, though this has not been done in every instance. They are of cherry about a foot cube in measurement, and are turned out by the head carpenter of the senate.

Now follows a very impressive ceremony, for which both house and senate suspend the regular order of their business. In obedience to a resolution already introduced and passed the members of the senate form themselves into a procession, and, with the doorkeeper and his two boxes in their midst, march, under the escort of a score of capitol policemen, through the long central corridor of the national legislative building to the hall of the house of representatives. It is an exceedingly solemn spectacle.

Meanwhile things over on the house side have taken on an air of expectancy and even gayety, so far as the galleries are concerned. The latter have been filled to overflowing ever since 10 o'clock in the morning, the demand for places being far beyond the available space. There has been a vigorous struggle for tickets, each senator and representative being provided with two, and no more, for his friends. On all sides the balconies are filled with the brilliant toilets of ladies, the bright ribbons, flowers and feathered hats lend to the mass of spectators a garden-like appearance.

Just as the clock is almost at the point of 1, the doorkeeper of the house, obtaining the recognition of the speaker, informs him that the senate has arrived. All the members, following the example of the speaker, rise to their feet and remain standing while the senators march in and take their places on the right hand of the speaker's desk, where the seats have been left vacant for them. The president of the senate ascends the diaz of the speaker and seats himself, the speaker sitting at his left. Then the doorkeeper of the senate places on the speaker's desk his two cherry-wood boxes, and everything is ready for the ceremony of declaring the election of the president.

The president of the senate takes envelopes in alphabetical order, handing each one in turn to the tellers, two of whom have been chosen by the senate and two by the house. As he does so he breaks the seals, and one of the tellers reads the certificates aloud stating the number of votes cast, naming the persons for whom they were cast. When all the documents have been thus read the tellers make their report the presiding officer, giving the totals, and the president of the senate announces to the assembled congress that William McKinley has been chosen president and Theodore Roosevelt vice president of the United States for four years beginning March 4, 1901. Then and not until then is the election an accomplished fact.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

Knights of Maccabees Install Officers For the Coming Year.

A public installation of officers was given by the Knights of Maccabees Wednesday evening in their hall. It was well attended. Deputy Great Commander J. R. Crowthers, of Norwalk, conducted the ceremony.

Those installed were: C. F. Walker, commander; C. W. Knoff, lieutenant commander; H. E. Bowen, record keeper; Dr. S. A. Stacey, physician; R. W. Emler, chaplain; H.H. Knicely, sergeant; H. H. Bryan, master at arms; Gus Dunfee, first master of guard; J. S. Slate, second master of guard; Henry Miller, sentinel; M. Valentine, picket.

RUSTY WESTWOOD'S LUCK.

His Friends Will Be Glad to Know He Has a Very Good Thing.

Rusty Westwood, who made many friends through his connection with the Coshocton rolling mill as roller, was in the city today on business.

Mr. Westwood has been employed at the Cambridge plant for some time, but next Monday he will take one of the best positions in the mill. He is a roller whose work is a qualification for any position where the best of skilled labor is required. He will move his family from Dresden to Cambridge next spring.

EXCELLENT ENTERTAINERS.

An Enormous Crowd Were Entertained at the Opera House Thursday Evening.

The committee in charge of the lecture course have the heartfelt thanks of the large crowd that attended the Germain Caveny entertainment at the opera house Thursday evening.

Miss Germaine played an important part as the mind reader, while her instrumental music was highly appreciated. Mr. Caveny, the crayon artist, is an entertainer of rare ability. His sketches are wonders of revelation as one scene is rapidly evolved from another.

Karl Germaine, the magician, was all that could be asked. The gentleman is not a Keller, but is so well along in his art that he bids fair to rival all his famous predecessors. His illusions were new and given with snap and rapidity, while his easy flow of language cannot but be repeated.

UNION LABEL

BRUTAL PERSONALITIES.

The most loathsome depths to which any person or newspaper can resort is reflections upon the home life of people. Knowing the contempt that all decent people have for such villainy, the Bulletin prints an extract from THE AGE and then twists and misconstrues it to the extent of asserting that it is a "fling at the home life of members of the W. C. T. U." The falsity of such a construction need not be explained to any reader of THE AGE. It is an insult to the intelligence of the community for the Bulletin to invent such a construction. The Bulletin editor's motive is an effort to find an excuse for his own resort to personalities.

THE AGE has never cast any "fling at the home life" of members of the W. C. T. U. or anybody else, as all of our readers know. The only newspaper in Coshocton that has ever resorted to such infamy is the Bulletin.

We prefer not to further discuss the Bulletin's dastardly style of alleged "journalism." Decent people will do their own thinking, and indecent people can think as the Bulletin pretends to think.

IN FORCE

March the Boers Through Cape Colony, Gobbling Up Garrisons.

Cape Town, Jan. 11.—Five thousand Boers, supposed to be trekking west from Vryburg, are now making their way into the heart of Cape Colony. The supposition is that they have captured several small garrisons on the way.

London, Jan. 11.—The situation in South Africa grows worse rather than better. Lord Kitchener's dispatches are more laconic than those of Lord Roberts and little else of importance is allowed to come through. The Times, in an editorial, finds comfort in the thought that the "process of attrition is doing its work and must shortly lead to the inevitable result." In other quarters, however, there is less satisfaction with the position of affairs, which has practically necessitated the fortification of Cape Town. No steps have been taken to comply with Lord Kitchener's demands for troops.

Late dispatches report that a small party of Boers carried off cattle close to the east fort at Pretoria. Nine hundred Boers, under Commandant Kritzinger, are 15 miles from Richmond, in the direction of Murraysburg. Rumors are spreading at Porterville that the rebels have joined the Boers in the Calvinia district. The military commissioner of police at Johannesburg has warned the public to beware of the dangerous dynamite mines laid in the rand to protect the mines, as the authorities can not hold themselves responsible for injuries resulting therefrom.

British Garrisons Attacked.

London, Jan. 11.—General Kitchener sends news of a serious, simultaneous attack the night of Jan. 7 by the Boers on the British position between points 60 miles apart along the lines of the Pretoria and Lorenzo Marques railway. The losses on both sides were heavy. He says the Boers in a dense fog assailed the garrisons at Belfast, Wonderfontein, Nooitgedacht and Wildfontein. One British officer was killed and three wounded, while 20 men were killed and 59 wounded. He reports the Boer losses heavy.

Girl Still Lives.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Mary Owens of Cincinnati was sent home from the Indianapolis Home for Friendless Women. Her mother thought she had buried her. In May last a girl's body was found floating in the Ohio river at Fifth street, Cincinnati, lay two days at the morgue, and was identified by Charles Owens as his stepdaughter, who was missing. Owens and wife buried the body and mourned the dead daughter. An insurance policy was paid. The real Mary Owens had left Cincinnati and come here, not knowing of it. She told the matron her story a few days ago and was urged to go home. She left for Cincinnati.

Chautauqua Assembly.

Cleveland, Jan. 11.—At the meeting of the board of trustees of the Chautauqua assembly the old officers were re-elected and reports on the past year's work were submitted. It was decided to make an effort to raise to a quarter of a million dollars the endowment fund started by Miss Helen Gould with a gift of $25,000. It was also voted to erect a memorial at the assembly grounds to the late Lewis Miller, one of the founders.

Fight Will Be Pulled Off.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—The directors of the Saengerfest Athletic club issued the following in relation to the proposed contest for Feb. 15 between Jeffries and Ruhlin: "After a session with our counsel we have not changed our position one iota, and any announcement that the contest is off is in no way authorized."

McKinley's Condition.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The president's improvement continues. There are no complications and his temperature is normal.

Legally Strangled.

Camilla, Ga., Jan. 11.—Will Hines, a negro, was hanged here for the murder of Minnie Walker, colored.

ONLY A LAUGH.

Only a laugh, but the joy of the hours in it,
Dropping so blithely from out of the gloom.
Down from the casement that has the red flowers in it,
Flooding with sunshine my poor little room.

Only a laugh, but I know well whose choice is in;
Oh, I can guess whose the lips that can chaff,
Whose is the smiling mouth, whose bubbling voice it is,
Putting such perfume in only a laugh!

Only a laugh! My lone life is so shadowy,
Tinged with the darkness that solitude grows,
Most of the brightness missed, most of its glad away,
Most of its tenderness chilled by the snows.

Only a laugh, but so much of the gay in it!
Oh, were there love 'twould be sweeter by half!
I could forget that my hair has its gray in it
Were it for me more than—only a laugh!

WHERE PRICES ARE STEADY.

The Mountain Dealer Objected to a Fall For Religious Reasons.

"That reminds me indirectly," said the other drummer, "of a yarn I heard lately over in South Carolina told at the expense of a peculiarly guileless old chap who keeps a little crossroads store up in the mountains. Everybody wears boots in that part of the country, and, as the story goes, the old fellow had been buying his stock for many years of a manufacturer in a big city not 1,000 miles away. He paid $6 a pair for his boots when he first went into business, and the maker had continued charging him the same figure year after year regardless of the fact that the market price had been steadily going down. The old storekeeper, secluded from the world in his mountain home, never dreamed that he was being fleeced and took pride in paying his bills with clocklike punctuality.

"At last, when that grade of boots was quoted at $2.50, the manufacturer's conscience smote him, and he decided to make amends. So he wrote the country merchant, saying that there had been a considerable decrease in the price of leather, and he was glad to state that he would be able to let him have the last lot of boots he ordered at $4 a pair. This, he added, was a special low rate, made on account of personal esteem and the fact that he had been a regular customer for such a long period. A few days afterward the conscientious manufacturer was amazed to receive a letter running something like this:

"Dear Sir—It's mighty kind of you all to offer to let me have them boots at $4, but I wish you would please keep the price the same as what it was before. I have been selling them boots for $10 a pair for 12 years, and, being a deacon in the church, I don't think it would be right to take no stronger profit. So no more at present from, yours truly, PETER DOE."

THE PALACE WAITED.

A Builder's Suggestion That Changed the Plans of a Pope.

At a time when there was great suffering among the people from lack of food and, when famine in its worst form was threatened Pope Alexander VI had made arrangements for the erection of a magnificent palace. The best architects had been employed, and the plans had been submitted and accepted, and an accomplished builder had been sent for to come from Venice, a man whose work had won for him renown and who was known to be a just and upright man.

The builder had arrived, and at an appointed time he waited upon his holiness to receive the plans and make his estimates. "There is one thing yet to be done," said the pope. "There has been no proper inscription or legend thought of to be placed over the main entrance of the palace. It should be put above the great gate. You have had experience. Do you think of an inscription that would be appropriate?"

"If your holiness would pardon me for the liberty, I might suggest one most appropriate at this time."

"You are pardoned in advance," said the pope, smiling. "Now, what shall it be?"

"Sovereign pontiff, let it be thus: 'Command that these stones be made bread!'"

The pope was visibly and deeply affected. He paid the builder munificently for his expenses of coming and going, and instead of building his palace, he fed the hungry ones of his children.—Weekly Bouquet.

Married the Day They Met.

Horace Greeley and Mary Young Cheney were married the first day they met. They had corresponded for some time, a common friend, who was something of a matchmaker, having brought this about. She was all his fancy painted her, but she was much disappointed in his appearance, so much so that when he appeared before her, having proposed and been accepted by letter, she frankly told him that, although she married him, she was not in love with him. Their married life was long and happy, and the loss of his wife was a blow which Greeley did not long survive.

CHANDLER PUT OUT.

His Foes Triumph In the Bitter Senatorial Contest.

JUDGE BURNHAM TO SUCCEED HIM.

Action Taken at the Caucus of New Hampshire Republican Legislators. Universal Suffrage to Obtain In the Cuban Republic—Bryan and Tillman—Political Intelligence.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 11.—The bitter senatorial contest has been brought to a close, and a new face will appear in the upper house of congress. Judge Henry E. Burnham of Manchester was nominated on the first ballot for United States senator by the Republican members of the legislature, defeating William Chandler and four other candidates. Chandler received 47 votes, Burnham 198, Congressman Sulloway 23, Henry M. Baker 29, Henry B. Quinby 22 and H. W. Blair 1. The Democrats nominated Charles F. Stone of Laconia as their candidate for United States senator.

Senator Chandler, in all, has served 14 years in the senate, was secretary of the navy in the Arthur administration and was the dominant factor in his party in New Hampshire. His opponents in the remarkable senatorial contest which closed attributed his defeat to the fact that during the years of his public life he attacked any one whom he fancied stood in his way, and thereby raised up many enemies, who seized this opportunity to unite and bring about his defeat.

Suffrage In Cuba.

Havana, Jan. 11.—The Cuban constitutional convention, in secret session, decided by a practically unanimous vote to insert in the draft constitution a clause providing for universal suffrage in the future republic. Only one vote, it is understood, was cast against the proposal. Several conservative members, who are known to be opposed to it, were absent, but the advocates of universal suffrage claim a clear majority and say there will be no disposition to oppose when the question comes to a vote in public session. Heretofore this subject has been delicately handled, and it was thought the convention would leave the settlement of the matter to future legislation. The friends of General Maximo Gomez, who assert that he is the popular candidate for the presidency, are elated over the prospect of an unrestricted vote.

Tillman and Bryan.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina denied the report of a disagreement between himself and W. J. Bryan, saying: "There is no disagreement between Mr. Bryan and myself. We are agreed as to the future policy of the Democratic party."

Mine Workers' Convention.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—The coal miners of the western Pennsylvania district will press their claims for a wage increase at the convention of the United Mine Workers which meets in this city Jan. 21. Patrick Dolan, the district president, has had much difficulty. It is stated that when the joint conference is held in Columbus, O., the operators will not consent to more wages for 1901. If a compromise is made, there will be no increase for this year. These statements do not apply to the anthracite situation. It is learned that there will be some important changes in the constitution of the United Mine Workers at the coming convention, and it is conceded that all the present officers will be re-elected.

Uncle Sam's Hot Pace.

London, Jan. 11. — In an editorial upon Andrew Carnegie's prediction that the United States, within a quarter of a century, will surpass all countries of the world combined in steel production, The Daily Telegraph says: "The United States have secured the lead in steel, and will increase it; and, since Germany is also preparing to 'dump her surplus production abroad,' we are on the eve of the greatest triangular duel yet seen in international trade. British manufacturers must wake up and imitate the methods of their rivals. Above all, obstructive rules and methods like those of the tradesunionists must be swept away."

Invaded Colombian Territory.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Jan. 11.—Details have reached here of an incident that may cause complications between Colombia and Venezuela. Under the eyes of the Venezuelan authorities, on Dec. 14 a troop of 2,000 men, composed of Venezuelans and revolutionary Colombians, invaded the territory of Colombia and attempted an attack on the town of Cucuta. The invaders were well armed and had two cannon. They were routed by the Colombian troops, 150 were killed, 300 wounded and 250 prisoners were taken by the government party, including 52 women.

Severe Earthquake Shocks.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—Earthquakes are reported from the Silesian and Saxon mountain districts, especially Glatz, Hain and Friedland. In the vicinity of Dresden the movement was strong enough to throw persons out of bed. At Reichenberg several houses were destroyed.

Rescued From the Snow.

Odessa, Jan. 11.—The police, firemen and physicians have rescued 470 passengers from five trains which have been snowbound for several days, after enduring great suffering. A force of 4,000 workmen is clearing the tracks to Odessa. Four days' mail has been piled up.

CONGRESS

Discussing Rivers and Harbors and Army Reorganization.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The general debate on the river and harbor bill continued in the house until the death of Representative Clarke of New Hampshire was announced, and the house adjourned out of respect to his memory. The features of the debate were the speeches of Mr. Cushman (Wash.) and Mr. Hepburn (Ia.). The latter has been a persistent opponent of river and harbor bills for years, and he attacked the bill all along the line in his usually vigorous fashion. Mr. Cushman's speech was unique in many particulars. He was in favor of river and harbor appropriations, and his complaint was due to the fact that the members of the committee, according to his ideas, had located the bulk of the appropriations in their own states, and had given scant consideration to the needs of other states—especially to the Seattle ship canal in his own state. Mr. Cushman illustrated his remarks with a series of carefully prepared charts, and his efforts earned a stirring round of applause.

In the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 11.—In the senate consideration was concluded of the committee amendments to the army reorganization bill and the senate took up the amendments proposed by individual senators. The amendments providing for the appointment of Generals James H. Wilson, Fitzhugh Lee and General Shafter to be major generals of the regular army and retired, precipitated an extended and, on the part of Mr. Pettigrew, a bitter debate. Mr. Pettigrew opposed the promotion of General Shafter. The amendments prevailed, however, despite the opposition.

An appeal was presented by Mr. Teller (Colo.) from more than 2,000 Filipinos in Manilla, urging the United States government to cease its operations against the Filipinos. The appeal is sensational in its statements, and so unusual in form that Mr. Hawley (Conn.) made a vigorous objection to its publication as a document. He declared that it was treasonable denunciation of the government and an attack upon the American soldiers.

Appeal of Filipinos.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Teller (Colo.) presented to the senate a memorial from 2,000 representative natives of Manilla, including the names of doctors, lawyers, merchants, bankers and professional men. The memorial is in the nature of an appeal for liberty and asks, "in the name of Washington, of Jefferson, of Lincoln and of God Eternal," that the United States "cease its persecutions of men struggling to be free." The appeal declares that autonomy would not be acceptable to the Filipinos, who desire full independence. It claims the insurgents have the support of practically all the people of the Philippines and that they will not yield until the last drop of Filipino blood has been shed.

Redmond's Prayer.

Dublin, Jan. 11.—At a meeting of the United Irish league in this city Mr. John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, spoke most hopefully while appealing for funds of the prospects of the Irish cause. The Liberal party, he said, had gone to pieces because a large proportion of its members had been false to Ireland. The conservative government was engaged in perilous enterprises in China, South Africa and elsewhere, and he added: "I hope to God that the government will be overwhelmed by military and financial disasters at Cape Town."

Subsidy Amendments.

Washington, Jan. 11. -- The senate committee on commerce agreed to make several additional amendments to the ship subsidy bill. One of these extends the benefits of the bill to ships engaged both in the foreign and the coastwise trade, such as those of the Panama railroad line. These amendments grant subsidy to the extent that the cargo is foreign. Another amendment permits a majority of the owners of a steamship to sign contracts with the secretary of the treasury instead of requiring all the owners to sign.

Commander Quackenbush.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Commander John W. Quackenbush, United States navy, retired, died at his residence in this city. Commander Quackenbush was born in New York and was appointed to the navy Sept. 24, 1847. He served on the frigate Cumberland during the Mexican war and later saw service in the Pacific squadron. He was commissioned as lieutenant commander in July, 1862, and was actively employed during the entire period of the civil war. He was retired in 1869.

French Rights Not Contested.

Paris, Jan. 11.—Senator Garreau, who defends the interests of the Breton fishermen in parliament, recently wrote to the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, inquiring about the truth of the rumors of a possible abandonment of the French rights on the Newfoundland shore. M. Delcasse replied: "I can only repeat what I said two years ago in the chamber—our rights in Newfoundland are not contested and there is nothing to prevent their being exercised."

Lieutenant Barber.

Canton, O., Jan. 11. — The body of Lieutenant James S. Barber, nephew of the president, reached Canton, accompanied by the young widow, who made the trip from Hongkong, China. The funeral services and interment were held today. President and Mrs. McKinley sent a beautiful floral tribute from the White House conservatory.

UP TO THE POWERS.

China Signs the Mooted Preliminary Joint Note.

BITTER WRANGLE NOW EXPECTED.

The Several Nations Will Get Into One Another's Hair In Efforts to Extend Their Respective Political and Commercial Influence—McKinley Withdraws His Proposition.

Paris, Jan. 11.—From an official and authoritative source it is learned that the Chinese plenipotentiaries signed the joint note of the powers on Wednesday last. This action concludes the preliminary stage of the peace negotiations.

It was added that this important step was insignificant compared with the difficulties to be met with between the powers themselves, whose clashing interests will have full play in the coming discussions. The United States proposal to shift the seat of the negotiations finds no favor in the European chancelleries. The feeling here favors Shanghai if any change is made, as it is pointed out that Shanghai is the most important trade center in China, and moreover, that the southern viceroys, who are favorable to foreigners and anxious to further trade, could make their influence felt. Failing Shanghai, Berlin or Paris are more likely to be chosen. The enormous British interests are in favor of choice of London, but it is improbable that the other powers will agree to this.

There is not reason to suppose that Russia will withdraw from the joint negotiations. The treaty she has concluded with China concerns her special interests in regions contiguous to her territories, but she has great political interests to defend and further in the joint conference which will bristle with obstacles to a speedy settlement. Russia aims chiefly at a wide expansion of her political influence. Great Britain wants to open the Chinese empire to her commerce and at same time strengthen her political foothold. The United States' efforts, apparently, will be devoted to securing commercial advantages, while France and Germany will desire to increase their trade generally and their political influence in certain provinces.

The struggle between these conflicting designs will be bitter, and, in any case, will greatly protract the negotiations. One thing which Great Britain and the United States wish secured is the raising of the prohibition, which now exists in China, against foreigners acquiring landed interests, a considerable extension of commerce being thereby anticipated. The ministers of the powers will be assisted in the negotiations by commercial advisers, while Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang will continue to act for the Chinese government.

McKinley's Proposition Withdrawn.

Washington, Jan. 11.—As some of the foreign powers do not look with favor upon the proposition of the United States, recently made, as to the withdrawal of certain features of the negotiations from Peking to Washington, or some other capital, and other powers hesitate to decide the question, the president has deemed it advisable to withdraw the proposition and has directed the diplomatic representatives of the United States abroad to so inform the different governments.

Outlook In China.

Kansas City, Jan. 11.—F. A. Blake, an American importer of Shanghai, China, is in the city. "The feeling in China now," said Mr. Blake, "seems to be a general desire for peace. Within a few years I expect to see the Pacific ocean dotted with American vessels carrying products of America to the far east. As soon as the present trouble in the orient is over new business will begin. The upper classes of China are favorable to foreign trade. The first goods which the Chinese will demand will be the staple products of this country, mining machinery, cotton cloth, flannel goods, canned fruits and meats, fish, flour and grain."

A Huge Transport.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Quartermaster General Ludington is informed that the steamer Samoa, recently purchased by the government, was delivered to its representatives at Hongkong. The Samoa is one of the largest freighters in the world, having a displacement of about 11,000 tons, nearly double that of any vessel in the United States transport service. She is to be utilized in bringing volunteer troops from the Philippines to San Francisco.

Miners Entombed.

Moberly, Mo., Jan. 11.—A landslide or cave-in occurred at Santiago mine, some six miles from here, entombing 60 men. The main entrance to the mine, which was on the tunnel plan, was completely stopped. The mine was enveloped in total darkness and the entombed miners had to crawl and feel their way to a small entrance or air tunnel nearly a mile from the main entrance where the cave-in occurred. No one was seriously hurt.

Death Sentence Commuted.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The president commuted the sentence of Charles L. McUin, who was to have been hanged in this city Friday, to imprisonment for life. In December, 1899, McUin, who was a motorman on one of the street railways, killed another motorman. Jealousy was the cause.

German Pipe Trust.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—All the German pipe foundries have joined the pipe trust, which is being organized this month.

FUR TO FLY.

Baseball War About to Be Precipitated In the West.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The conflict between the American and National baseball leagues is on in earnest. Chicago will be the battleground, and there is every prospect that the differences between the rival organizations will have to be settled in court. A dispatch from the east asserted that the American league would forfeit $5,000 in case a single game was played in Chicago outside of the national agreement and brought the question to an issue. President Hart of the local club admitted that a contract had been signed with the American League along these lines. President Johnson of the American League corroborated the story, and then added that the contract was not worth the paper it was written on.

Ohio Republican League.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—A call was issued for the sixteenth annual convention of the Ohio Republican league at Cleveland, Feb. 12, by President D. Q. Morrow of Hillsboro and Secretary H. V. Speelman of Marietta. Following the convention the annual Lincoln banquet will be given in the evening at which the Ohio senators and congressman, Governor Nash and distinguished Republicans from other states will be present.

Into a Vat of Hot Water.

Baltimore, O., Jan. 11.—Burt Roshon came to his death in a horrible manner at the strawboard works here. He was at work at the bleach tubs, where the straw is treated by steam, and when on top of the straw the chain, holding the mass out of the water, broke. Roshon was let down into the boiling water and was scalded in such a fearful manner that he was soon relieved by death.

Admiral Phelps Dead.

New York, Jan. 11.—Rear Admiral Thomas F. Phelps of Washington, D. C., died at the New York hospital of pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital on Wednesday from the hotel where he was stopping. He had come to this city together with Miss N. R. Adams, Mrs. T. B. Mason, M. Mason and Mrs. J. A. Adams, to be with Mrs. Phelps, who has been sick at the New York hospital for the past three weeks.

Sheldon at Home.

Topeka, Jan. 11.—Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," has resumed his church work in Topeka after an absence in Europe and the east. Mr. Sheldon is preparing to make a vigorous entry into the law-enforcement campaign of the state. He will start this work in two weeks with an address before the state convention of the State Temperance union.

Compelled to Disgorge.

London, Jan. 11.—Six brokers and outside speculators who engineered the recent collapse of Lakeviews and the consequent downfall of 16 firms, have been compelled to pay over £300,000 for the benefit of the injured firms under threat, it is reported, of an exposure of questionable transactions.

Elevator Fell.

Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 11.—The heavy freight elevator in the Farley-Loetscher & Company's factory fell three stories. B. Vogel, Charles Grade and William Knapp were in the car and all were injured, Knapp critically.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

C. Unger, 212 Maple St., Champaign, Ill. writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had the consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of a physician for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since. C. E. Anderson.

REPEATING A GOOD STORY.

She Was Not a Drinker and Missed Its Point.

"My wife has just heard that old story about the man on the train and the corkscrew," said my neighbor. "The story goes this way: Man rises in a car and says, 'Is there a man from Bangor, Me., in the car?' 'Nother man gets up with an inquiring look on his face. 'I'm from Bangor,' says he. 'Well,' says the first feller, 'let me take your corkscrew.'

"My wife thought the story was pretty good. The other night I was out in the sitting room reading, and she was in the parlor talking with the woman from over the way. I had to stop reading and listen to this:

"'Oh, say,' says my wife, 'I heard an awfully funny story the other day. Now, let me think a minute. Can't be that I've forgotten it. Let's see. Oh, yes. This is it. The other day on the train a man got up in the car all at once and shouted just as loud as he could. "Is there a man from Bangor, Me., in this car?" Every one jumped and looked at the man. One person down near the door stood up and said, "I'm from Bangor, sir." The other man then said, "Will you be kind enough to let me take your screwdriver?" There! Isn't that funny?'

"'He, he, he,' snickered the other woman a little easy. 'Yes, that's a real cute story; just as funny as it can be. But what did he mean? I guess I don't understand what it is about.'

"I could almost hear the wife thinking. Then says she: 'Well, my gracious, that doesn't sound so funny now. I wonder what the trouble is with it? Guess I didn't tell it right. But no matter. Oh, you were going to tell me about that new ribbon cake that'— and then I continued with my literary studies."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Walt Whitman's Pride.

Whitman's grandmother was a Quaker, and the bard had been all his life used, Quaker fashion, to sitting in the house with his sombrero on if it suited him to do so. One day, with a friend, he entered the gloomy and half empty precincts of Trinity church, New York, and took a back seat in the obscurity and for a moment forgot to remove his hat or was probably just about to do so when an officious verger stepped up and requested him to take it off.

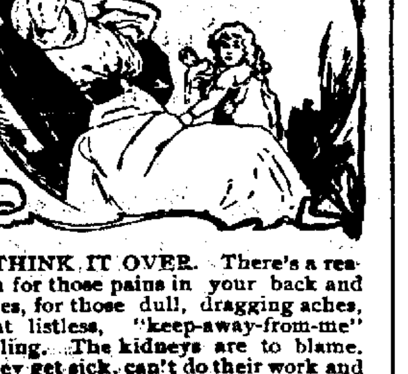

Walt, a man of immense pride, not seeing fit to do so instantaneously or being very slow in his mental processes, was taking the matter into consideration for a second when the verger knocked the offending hat off his head. Walt picked up the huge felt and, doubling it together, smote the fellow vigorously twice or thrice with it on the head and slowly left the church, the red faced sexton following and threatening him with the law.—Boston Transcript.

Crosses and Thieves.

Several years after the close of the civil war a reception was held in Lynchburg, Va., to commemorate some national event, says V. Halsey in Lippincott's Magazine. Many men were there assembled who had fought in the war. Among them was a major of a Massachusetts regiment, who, meeting General Jubal Early of the Confederate army, cordially greeted him.

Pointing to his own decorations, the major said, "Ah, general, you see we have all the crosses now."

"Yes," replied the old general. "In olden times they hung thieves on crosses. Now they hang crosses on thieves."

THINK IT OVER. There's a reason for those pains in your back and sides, for those dull, dragging aches, that listless, "keep-away-from-me" feeling. The kidneys are to blame. They get sick, can't do their work and the whole system feels the effect, just as a whole town feels the effect of a blockaded sewerage system.

Doan's Kidney Pills

set matters right quickly and easily. They never fail, even in the most advanced stages of kidney disease.

Mrs. C. Woodman, of 67 McReynolds street, Dayton, O., says:

"A lame and aching back annoyed me for 3 or 4 years, particularly if I caught cold or over-exerted myself. When the attacks were most virulent I was restless at night and often arose in the morning unfitted for ordinary household duties. I had often seen Doan's Kidney Pills recommended for just such troubles as I had and I procured a supply at a drug store. If the treatment had not benefitted me, and that radically, I never would have advised other members of my household to use Doan's Kidney Pills. We keep a supply on hand. With us Doan's Kidney Pills are a household necessity."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

UNION LABEL

BRUTAL PERSONALITIES.

The most loathsome depths to which any person or newspaper can resort is reflections upon the home life of people. Knowing the contempt that all decent people have for such villainy, the Bulletin prints an extract from THE AGE and then twists and misconstrues it to the extent of asserting that it is a "fling at the home life of members of the W. C. T. U." The falsity of such a construction need not be explained to any reader of THE AGE. It is an insult to the intelligence of the community for the Bulletin to invent such a construction. The Bulletin editor's motive is an effort to find an excuse for his own resort to personalities.

THE AGE has never cast any "fling at the home life" of members of the W. C. T. U. or anybody else, as all of our readers know. The only newspaper in Coshocton that has ever resorted to such infamy is the Bulletin.

We prefer not to further discuss the Bulletin's dastardly style of alleged "journalism." Decent people will do their own thinking, and indecent people can think as the Bulletin pretends to think.

IN FORCE

March the Boers Through Cape Colony, Gobbling Up Garrisons.

Cape Town, Jan. 11.—Five thousand Boers, supposed to be trekking west from Vryburg, are now making their way into the heart of Cape Colony. The supposition is that they have captured several small garrisons on the way.

London, Jan. 11.—The situation in South Africa grows worse rather than better. Lord Kitchener's dispatches are more laconic than those of Lord Roberts and little else of importance is allowed to come through. The Times, in an editorial, finds comfort in the thought that the "process of attrition is doing its work and must shortly lead to the inevitable result." In other quarters, however, there is less satisfaction with the position of affairs, which has practically necessitated the fortification of Cape Town. No steps have been taken to comply with Lord Kitchener's demands for troops.

Late dispatches report that a small party of Boers carried off cattle close to the east fort at Pretoria. Nine hundred Boers, under Commandant Kritzinger, are 15 miles from Richmond, in the direction of Murraysburg. Rumors are spreading at Porterville that the rebels have joined the Boers in the Calvinia district. The military commissioner of police at Johannesburg has warned the public to beware of the dangerous dynamite mines laid in the rand to protect the mines, as the authorities can not hold themselves responsible for injuries resulting therefrom.

British Garrisons Attacked.

London, Jan. 11.—General Kitchener sends news of a serious, simultaneous attack the night of Jan. 7 by the Boers on the British position between points 60 miles apart along the lines of the Pretoria and Lorenzo Marques railway. The losses on both sides were heavy. He says the Boers in a dense fog assailed the garrisons at Belfast, Wonderfontein, Nooitgedacht and Wildfontein. One British officer was killed and three wounded, while 20 men were killed and 59 wounded. He reports the Boer losses heavy.

Girl Still Lives.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Mary Owens of Cincinnati was sent home from the Indianapolis Home for Friendless Women. Her mother thought she had buried her. In May last a girl's body was found floating in the Ohio river at Fifth street, Cincinnati, lay two days at the morgue, and was identified by Charles Owens as his stepdaughter, who was missing. Owens and wife buried the body and mourned the dead daughter. An insurance policy was paid. The real Mary Owens had left Cincinnati and come here, not knowing of it. She told the matron her story a few days ago and was urged to go home. She left for Cincinnati.

Chautauqua Assembly.

Cleveland, Jan. 11.—At the meeting of the board of trustees of the Chautauqua assembly the old officers were re-elected and reports on the past year's work were submitted. It was decided to make an effort to raise to a quarter of a million dollars the endowment fund started by Miss Helen Gould with a gift of $25,000. It was also voted to erect a memorial at the assembly grounds to the late Lewis Miller, one of the founders.

Fight Will Be Pulled Off.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—The directors of the Saengerfest Athletic club issued the following in relation to the proposed contest for Feb. 15 between Jeffries and Ruhlin: "After a session with our counsel we have not changed our position one iota, and any announcement that the contest is off is in no way authorized."

McKinley's Condition.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The president's improvement continues. There are no complications and his temperature is normal.

Legally Strangled.

Camilla, Ga., Jan. 11.—Will Hines, a negro, was hanged here for the murder of Minnie Walker, colored.

ONLY A LAUGH.

Only a laugh, but the joy of the hours in it,
Dropping so blithely from out of the gloom,
Down from the casement that has the red flowers in it,
Flooding with sunshine my poor little room.

Only a laugh, but I know well whose choice it is;
Oh, I can guess whose the lips that can chaff,
Whose is the smiling mouth, whose bubbling voice it is,
Putting such perfume in only a laugh!

Only a laugh! My lone life is so shadowy,
Tinged with the darkness that solitude grows,
Most of the brightness missed, most of its glad away,
Most of its tenderness chilled by the snows.

Only a laugh, but so much of the gay in it!
Oh, were there love 'twould be sweeter by half!
I could forget that my hair has its gray in it
Were it for me more than—only a laugh!
—New York Press.

WHERE PRICES ARE STEADY.

The Mountain Dealer Objected to a Fall For Religious Reasons.

"That reminds me indirectly," said the other drummer, "of a yarn I heard lately over in South Carolina told at the expense of a peculiarly guileless old chap who keeps a little crossroads store up in the mountains. Everybody wears boots in that part of the country, and, as the story goes, the old fellow had been buying his stock for many years of a manufacturer in a big city not 1,000 miles away. He paid $6 a pair for his boots when he first went into business, and the maker had continued charging him the same figure year after year regardless of the fact that the market price had been steadily going down. The old storekeeper, secluded from the world in his mountain home, never dreamed that he was being fleeced and took pride in paying his bills with clocklike punctuality.

"At last, when that grade of boots was quoted at $2.50, the manufacturer's conscience smote him, and he decided to make amends. So he wrote the country merchant, saying that there had been a considerable decrease in the price of leather, and he was glad to state that he would be able to let him have the last lot of boots he ordered at $4 a pair. This, he added, was a special low rate, made on account of personal esteem and the fact that he had been a regular customer for such a long period. A few days afterward the conscientious manufacturer was amazed to receive a letter running something like this:

"'Dear Sir—It's mighty kind of you all to offer to let me have them boots at $4, but I wish you would please keep the price the same as what it was before. I have been selling them boots for $10 a pair for 12 years, and, being a deacon in the church, I don't think it would be right to take no stronger profit. So no more at present from, yours truly, PETER DOE.'"
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE PALACE WAITED.

A Builder's Suggestion That Changed the Plans of a Pope.

At a time when there was great suffering among the people from lack of food and when famine in its worst form was threatened Pope Alexander VI had made arrangements for the erection of a magnificent palace. The best architects had been employed, and the plans had been submitted and accepted, and an accomplished builder had been sent for to come from Venice, a man whose work had won for him renown and who was known to be a just and upright man.

The builder had arrived, and at an appointed time he waited upon his holiness to receive the plans and make his estimates. "There is one thing yet to be done," said the pope. "There has been no proper inscription or legend thought of to be placed over the main entrance of the palace. It should be put above the great gate. You have had experience. Do you think of an inscription that would be appropriate?"

"If your holiness would pardon me for the liberty, I might suggest one most appropriate at this time."

"You are pardoned in advance," said the pope, smiling. "Now, what shall it be?"

"Sovereign pontiff, let it be thus: 'Command that these stones be made bread!'"

The pope was visibly and deeply affected. He paid the builder munificently for his expenses of coming and going, and instead of building his palace he fed the hungry ones of his children.

Married the Day They Met.

Horace Greeley and Mary Young Cheney were married the first day they met. They had corresponded for some time, a common friend, who was something of a matchmaker, having brought this about. She was all his fancy painted her, but she was much disappointed in his appearance, so much so that when he appeared before her, having proposed and been accepted by letter, she frankly told him that, although she married him, she was not in love with him. Their married life was long and happy, and the loss of his wife was a blow which Greeley did not long survive.

CHANDLER PUT OUT.

His Foes Triumph In the Bitter Senatorial Contest.

JUDGE BURNHAM TO SUCCEED HIM.

Action Taken at the Caucus of New Hampshire Republican Legislators. Universal Suffrage to Obtain in the Cuban Republic—Bryan and Tillman—Political Intelligence.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 11.—The bitter senatorial contest has been brought to a close, and a new face will appear in the upper house of congress. Judge Henry E. Burnham of Manchester was nominated on the first ballot for United States senator by the Republican members of the legislature, defeating William Chandler and four other candidates. Chandler received 47 votes, Burnham 198, Congressman Sulloway 23, Henry M. Baker 29, Henry B. Quinby 22 and H. W. Blair 1. The Democrats nominated Charles F. Stone of Laconia as their candidate for United States senator.

Senator Chandler, in all, has served 14 years in the senate, was secretary of the navy in the Arthur administration and was the dominant factor in his party in New Hampshire. His opponents in the remarkable senatorial contest which closed attributed his defeat to the fact that during the years of his public life he attacked any one whom he fancied stood in his way, and thereby raised up many enemies, who seized this opportunity to unite and bring about his defeat.

Suffrage In Cuba.

Havana, Jan. 11.—The Cuban constitutional convention, in secret session, decided by a practically unanimous vote to insert in the draft constitution a clause providing for universal suffrage in the future republic. Only one vote, it is understood, was cast against the proposal. Several conservative members, who are known to be opposed to it, were absent, but the advocates of universal suffrage claim a clear majority and say there will be no disposition to oppose when the question comes to a vote in public session. Heretofore this subject has been delicately handled, and it was thought the convention would leave the settlement of the matter to future legislation. The friends of General Maximo Gomez, who assert that he is the popular candidate for the presidency, are elated over the prospect of an unrestricted vote.

Tillman and Bryan.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina denied the report of a disagreement between himself and W. J. Bryan, saying: "There is no disagreement between Mr. Bryan and myself. We are agreed as to the future policy of the Democratic party."

Mine Workers' Convention.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—The coal miners of the western Pennsylvania district will press their claims for a wage increase at the convention of the United Mine Workers which meets in this city Jan. 21. Patrick Dolan, the district president, has had much difficulty. It is stated that when the joint conference is held in Columbus, O., the operators will not consent to more wages for 1901. If a compromise is made, there will be no increase for this year. These statements do not apply to the anthracite situation. It is learned that there will be some important changes in the constitution of the United Mine Workers at the coming convention, and it is conceded that all the present officers will be re-elected.

Uncle Sam's Hot Pace.

London, Jan. 11.—In an editorial upon Andrew Carnegie's prediction that the United States, within a quarter of a century, will surpass all countries of the world combined in steel production, The Daily Telegraph says: "The United States have secured the lead in steel, and will increase it; and, since Germany is also preparing to 'dump her surplus production abroad,' we are on the eve of the greatest triangular duel yet seen in international trade. British manufacturers must wake up and imitate the methods of their rivals. Above all, obstructive rules and methods like those of the tradesunionists must be swept away."

Invaded Colombian Territory.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Jan. 11.—Details have reached here of an incident that may cause complications between Colombia and Venezuela. Under the eyes of the Venezuelan authorities, on Dec. 14 a troop of 2,000 men, composed of Venezuelans and revolutionary Colombians, invaded the territory of Colombia and attempted an attack on the town of Cucuta. The invaders were well armed and had two cannon. They were routed by the Colombian troops, 150 were killed, 300 wounded and 250 prisoners were taken by the government party, including 52 women.

Severe Earthquake Shocks.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—Earthquakes are reported from the Silesian and Saxon mountain districts, especially Glatz, Hain and Friedland. In the vicinity of Dresden the movement was strong enough to throw persons out of bed. At Reichenberg several houses were destroyed.

Rescued From the Snow.

Odessa, Jan. 11.—The police, firemen and physicians have rescued 470 passengers from five trains which have been snowbound for several days, after enduring great suffering. A force of 4,000 workmen is clearing the tracks to Odessa. Four days' mail has been piled up.

CONGRESS

Discussing Rivers and Harbors and Army Reorganization.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The general debate on the river and harbor bill continued in the house until the death of Representative Clarke of New Hampshire was announced, and the house adjourned out of respect to his memory. The features of the debate were the speeches of Mr. Cushman (Wash.) and Mr. Hepburn (Ia.). The latter has been a persistent opponent of river and harbor bills for years, and he attacked the bill all along the line in his usually vigorous fashion. Mr. Cushman's speech was unique in many particulars. He was in favor of river and harbor appropriations, and his complaint was due to the fact that the members of the committee, according to his ideas, had located the bulk of the appropriations in their own states, and had given scant consideration to the needs of other states—especially to the Seattle ship canal in his own state. Mr. Cushman illustrated his remarks with a series of carefully prepared charts, and his efforts earned a stirring round of applause.

In the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 11.—In the senate consideration was concluded of the committee amendments to the army reorganization bill and the senate took up the amendments proposed by individual senators. The amendments providing for the appointment of Generals James H. Wilson, Fitzhugh Lee and General Shafter to be major generals of the regular army and retired, precipitated an extended and, on the part of Mr. Pettigrew, a bitter debate. Mr. Pettigrew opposed the promotion of General Shafter. The amendments prevailed, however, despite the opposition.

An appeal was presented by Mr. Teller (Colo.) from more than 2,000 Filipinos in Manilla, urging the United States government to cease its operations against the Filipinos. The appeal is sensational in its statements, and so unusual in form that Mr. Hawley (Conn.) made a vigorous objection to its publication as a document. He declared that it was treasonable denunciation of the government and an attack upon the American soldiers.

Appeal of Filipinos.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Teller (Colo.) presented to the senate a memorial from 2,000 representative natives of Manilla, including the names of doctors, lawyers, merchants, bankers and professional men. The memorial is in the nature of an appeal for liberty and asks, "in the name of Washington, of Jefferson, of Lincoln and of God Eternal," that the United States "cease its persecutions of men struggling to be free." The appeal declares that autonomy would not be acceptable to the Filipinos, who desire full independence. It claims the insurgents have the support of practically all the people of the Philippines and that they will not yield until the last drop of Filipino blood has been shed.

Redmond's Prayer.

Dublin, Jan. 11.—At a meeting of the United Irish league in this city Mr. John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, spoke most hopefully while appealing for funds of the prospects of the Irish cause. The Liberal party, he said, had gone to pieces because a large proportion of its members had been false to Ireland. The conservative government was engaged in perilous enterprises in China, South Africa and elsewhere, and he added: "I hope to God that the government will be overwhelmed by military and financial disasters at Cape Town."

Subsidy Amendments.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The senate committee on commerce agreed to make several additional amendments to the ship subsidy bill. One of these extends the benefits of the bill to ships engaged both in the foreign and the coastwise trade, such as those of the Panama railroad line. These amendments grant subsidy to the extent that the cargo is foreign. Another amendment permits a majority of the owners of a steamship to sign contracts with the secretary of the treasury instead of requiring all the owners to sign.

Commander Quackenbush.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Commander John W. Quackenbush, United States navy, retired, died at his residence in this city. Commander Quackenbush was born in New York and was appointed to the navy Sept. 24, 1847. He served on the frigate Cumberland during the Mexican war and later saw service in the Pacific squadron. He was commissioned as lieutenant commander in July, 1862, and was actively employed during the entire period of the civil war. He was retired in 1869.

French Rights Not Contested.

Paris, Jan. 11.—Senator Garreau, who defends the interests of the Breton fishermen in parliament, recently wrote to the minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, inquiring about the truth of the rumors of a possible abandonment of the French rights on the Newfoundland shore. M. Delcasse replied: "I can only repeat what I said two years ago in the chamber—our rights in Newfoundland are not contested and there is nothing to prevent their being exercised."

Lieutenant Barber.

Canton, O., Jan. 11.—The body of Lieutenant James S. Barber, nephew of the president, reached Canton, accompanied by the young widow, who made the trip from Hongkong, China. The funeral services and interment were held today. President and Mrs. McKinley sent a beautiful floral tribute from the White House conservatory.

UP TO THE POWERS.

China Signs the Mooted Preliminary Joint Note.

BITTER WRANGLE NOW EXPECTED.

The Several Nations Will Get Into One Another's Hair in Efforts to Extend Their Respective Political and Commercial Influence—McKinley Withdraws His Proposition.

Paris, Jan. 11.—From an official and authoritative source it is learned that the Chinese plenipotentiaries signed the joint note of the powers on Wednesday last. This action concludes the preliminary stage of the peace negotiations.

It was added that this important step was insignificant compared with the difficulties to be met with between the powers themselves, whose clashing interests will have full play in the coming discussions. The United States proposal to shift the seat of the negotiations finds no favor in the European chancelleries. The feeling here favors Shanghai if any change is made, as it is pointed out that Shanghai is the most important trade center in China, and moreover, that the southern viceroys, who are favorable to foreigners and anxious to further trade, could make their influence felt. Failing Shanghai, Berlin or Paris are more likely to be chosen. The enormous British interests are in favor of choice of London, but it is improbable that the other powers will agree to this.

There is not reason to suppose that Russia will withdraw from the joint negotiations. The treaty she has concluded with China concerns her special interests in regions contiguous to her territories, but she has great political interests to defend and further in the joint conference which will bristle with obstacles to a speedy settlement. Russia aims chiefly at a wide expansion of her political influence. Great Britain wants to open the Chinese empire to her commerce and at same time strengthen her political foothold. The United States' efforts, apparently, will be devoted to securing commercial advantages, while France and Germany will desire to increase their trade generally and their political influence in certain provinces.

The struggle between these conflicting designs will be bitter, and, in any case, will greatly protract the negotiations. One thing which Great Britain and the United States wish secured is the raising of the prohibition, which now exists in China, against foreigners acquiring landed interests, a considerable extension of commerce being thereby anticipated. The ministers of the powers will be assisted in the negotiations by commercial advisers, while Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang will continue to act for the Chinese government.

McKinley's Proposition Withdrawn.

Washington, Jan. 11.—As some of the foreign powers do not look with favor upon the proposition of the United States, recently made, as to the withdrawal of certain features of the negotiations from Peking to Washington, or some other capital, and other powers hesitate to decide the question, the president has deemed it advisable to withdraw the proposition and has directed the diplomatic representatives of the United States abroad to so inform the different governments.

Outlook In China.

Kansas City, Jan. 11.—F. A. Blake, an American importer of Shanghai, China, is in the city. "The feeling in China now," said Mr. Blake, "seems to be a general desire for peace. Within a few years I expect to see the Pacific ocean dotted with American vessels carrying products of America to the far east. As soon as the present trouble in the orient is over new business will begin. The upper classes of China are favorable to foreign trade. The first goods which the Chinese will demand will be the staple products of this country, mining machinery, cotton cloth, flannel goods, canned fruits and meats, fish, flour and grain."

A Huge Transport.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Quartermaster General Ludington is informed that the steamer Samoa, recently purchased by the government, was delivered to its representatives at Hongkong. The Samoa is one of the largest freighters in the world, having a displacement of about 11,000 tons, nearly double that of any vessel in the United States transport service. She is to be utilized in bringing volunteer troops from the Philippines to San Francisco.

Miners Entombed.

Moberly, Mo., Jan. 11.—A landslide or cave-in occurred at Santiago mine, some six miles from here, entombing 60 men. The main entrance to the mine, which was on the tunnel plan, was completely stopped. The mine was enveloped in total darkness and the entombed miners had to crawl and feel their way to a small entrance or air tunnel nearly a mile from the main entrance where the cave-in occurred. No one was seriously hurt.

Death Sentence Commuted.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The president commuted the sentence of Charles L. McUin, who was to have been hanged in this city Friday, to imprisonment for life. In December, 1899, McUin, who was a motorman on one of the street railways, killed another motorman. Jealousy was the cause.

German Pipe Trust.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—All the German pipe foundries have joined the pipe trust, which is being organized this month.

FUR TO FLY.

Baseball War About to Be Precipitated in the West.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—The conflict between the American and National baseball leagues is on in earnest. Chicago will be the battleground, and there is every prospect that the differences between the rival organizations will have to be settled in court. A dispatch from the east asserted that the American league would forfeit $5,000 in case a single game was played in Chicago outside of the national agreement and brought the question to an issue. President Hart of the local club admitted that a contract had been signed with the American League along these lines. President Johnson of the American League corroborated the story, and then added that the contract was not worth the paper it was written on.

Ohio Republican League.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—A call was issued for the sixteenth annual convention of the Ohio Republican league at Cleveland, Feb. 12, by President D. Q. Morrow of Hillsboro and Secretary H. V. Speelman of Marietta. Following the convention the annual Lincoln banquet will be given in the evening at which the Ohio senators and congressman; Governor Nash and distinguished Republicans from other states will be present.

Into a Vat of Hot Water.

Baltimore, O., Jan. 11.—Burt Roshon came to his death in a horrible manner at the strawboard works here. He was at work at the bleach tubs, where the straw is treated by steam, and when on top of the straw the chain, holding the mass out of the water, broke. Roshon was let down into the boiling water and was scalded in such a fearful manner that he was soon relieved by death.

Admiral Phelps Dead.

New York, Jan. 11.—Rear Admiral Thomas F. Phelps of Washington, D. C., died at the New York hospital of pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital on Wednesday from the hotel where he was stopping. He had come to this city together with Miss N. R. Adams, Mrs. T. B. Mason, M. Mason and Mrs. J. A. Adams, to be with Mrs. Phelps, who has been sick at the New York hospital for the past three weeks.

Sheldon at Home.

Topeka, Jan. 11.—Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," has resumed his church work in Topeka after an absence in Europe and the east. Mr. Sheldon is preparing to make a vigorous entry into the law-enforcement campaign of the state. He will start this work in two weeks with an address before the state convention of the State Temperance union.

Compelled to Disgorge.

London, Jan. 11.—Six brokers and outside speculators who engineered the recent collapse of Lakeviews and the consequent downfall of 16 firms, have been compelled to pay over £300,000 for the benefit of the injured firms under threat, it is reported, of an exposure of questionable transactions.

Elevator Fell.

Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 11.—The heavy freight elevator in the Farley-Loetscher & Company's factory fell three stories. B. Vogel, Charles Grade and William Knapp were in the car and all were injured, Knapp critically.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

C. Unger, 212 Maple St., Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had the consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of a physician for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since. C. E. Anderson.

REPEATING A GOOD STORY.

She Was Not a Drinker and Missed Its Point.

"My wife has just heard that old story about the man on the train and the corkscrew," said my neighbor. "The story goes this way: Man rises in a car and says, 'Is there a man from Bangor, Me., in the car?' 'Nother man gets up with an inquiring look on his face. 'I'm from Bangor,' says he. 'Well,' says the first feller, 'let me take your corkscrew.'

"My wife thought the story was pretty good. The other night I was out in the sitting room reading, and she was in the parlor talking with the woman from over the way. I had to stop reading and listen to this:

"'Oh, say,' says my wife, 'I heard an awfully funny story the other day. Now, let me think a minute. Can't be that I've forgotten it. Let's see. Oh, yes. This is it. The other day on the train a man got up in the car all at once and shouted just as loud as he could, "Is there a man from Bangor, Me., in this car?" Every one jumped and looked at the man. One person down near the door stood up and said, "I'm from Bangor, sir." The other man then said, "Will you be kind enough to let me take your screwdriver?" There! Isn't that funny?'

"'He, he, he,' snickered the other woman a little easy. 'Yes, that's a real cute story; just as funny as it can be. But what did he mean? I guess I don't understand what it is about.'

"I could almost hear the wife thinking. Then says she: 'Well, my gracious, that doesn't sound so funny now. I wonder what the trouble is with it? Guess I didn't tell it right. But no matter. Oh, you were going to tell me about that new ribbon cake that'—and then I continued with my literary studies."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Walt Whitman's Pride.

Whitman's grandmother was a Quaker, and the bard had been all his life used, Quaker fashion, to sitting in the house with his sombrero on if it suited him to do so. One day, with a friend, he entered the gloomy and half empty precincts of Trinity church, New York, and took a back seat in the obscurity and for a moment forgot to remove his hat or was probably just about to do so when an officious verger stepped up and requested him to take it off.

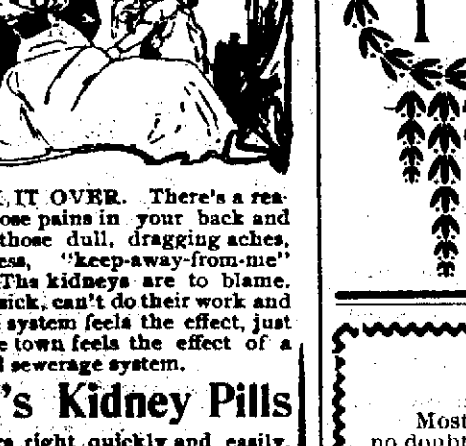

Walt, a man of immense pride, not seeing fit to do so instantaneously or being very slow in his mental processes, was taking the matter into consideration for a second when the verger knocked the offending hat off his head. Walt picked up the huge felt and, doubling it together, smote the fellow vigorously twice or thrice with it on the head and slowly left the church, the red faced sexton following and threatening him with the law.—Boston Transcript.

Crosses and Thieves.

Several years after the close of the civil war a reception was held in Lynchburg, Va., to commemorate some national event, says V. Halsey in Lippincott's Magazine. Many men were there assembled who had fought in the war. Among them was a major of a Massachusetts regiment, who, meeting General Jubal Early of the Confederate army, cordially greeted him.

Pointing to his own decorations, the major said, "Ah, general, you see we have all the crosses now."

"Yes," replied the old general. "In olden times they hung thieves on crosses. Now they hang crosses on thieves."

THINK IT OVER. There's a reason for those pains in your back and sides, for those dull, dragging aches, that listless, "keep-away-from-me" feeling. The kidneys are to blame. They get sick, can't do their work and the whole system feels the effect, just as a whole town feels the effect of a blockaded sewerage system.

Doan's Kidney Pills

set matters right quickly and easily. They never fail, even in the most advanced stages of kidney disease.

Mrs. C. Woodman, of 67 McReynolds street, Dayton, O., says:

"A lame and aching back annoyed me for 3 or 4 years, particularly if I caught cold or over-exerted myself. When the attacks were most virulent I was restless at night and often arose in the morning unfitted for ordinary household duties. I had often seen Doan's Kidney Pills recommended for just such troubles as I had and I procured a supply at a drug store. If the treatment had not benefitted me, and that radically, I never would have advised other members of my household to use Doan's Kidney Pills. We keep a supply on hand. With us Doan's Kidney Pills are a household necessity."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

SWINDLING CHARGED.

An Insurance Company Causes Arrest of Three Men.

"GRAVEYARD" JOBS ARE SUSPECTED.

Sensational Shooting Case at Kansas City In Which a Wife Kills Her Husband Who Had Applied For Divorce—Southern Postmaster Under Arrest—Crime's Chronology.

New York, Jan. 11.—Believing that they were the victims of "graveyard insurance swindles," officers of the Colonial Life Insurance Company of America, located in Jersey City, caused the arrest of Thomas Martin, editor of a Union Hill, N. J., newspaper; William Necker, an undertaker in Union Hill, and Thomas J. Kelly, a pugilist, whose right name is said to be Thomas Waldron, who, until recently, was an agent for the company. Dr. Richard Jahr, a West Hoboken physician and formerly medical examiner in Union Hill for the company, went to police headquarters, but after making a statement was not placed under arrest. Secretary and Manager Ernest Hoppenheimer of the insurance company said he did not think Dr. Jahr had been guilty of a criminal intent, but had been careless in signing papers presented by Kelly. Martin, Kelly and Necker were each released on $1,000 bail.

An indictment had been found against the four men on the charge that they had conspired to secure insurance on the life of Robert Brenner, a boy of 17, who was the brother of Martin's wife. The insurance was secured in August last, when Brenner was an inmate of Bellevue hospital. Martin was the beneficiary. Brenner's application had been secured by Kelly as agent; he had been examined and passed by Dr. Jahr, and his body had been buried by Necker, the undertaker. It was charged that Brenner was dying with consumption when the policy was granted. It is reported that there are other suspected cases.

Sensational Affray.

Kansas City, Jan. 11.—P. H. Kennedy, agent for the Merchants' Dispatch Transportation company, was shot and instantly killed by his wife in his office in the Ridge building. She then kicked the lifeless body and exclaimed, 'Now, you will never seduce another woman." Mrs. Kennedy, who was formerly Lulu K. Prince, married Kennedy Dec. 4, 1900, and the groom's action during the ceremony indicated that he was not a willing party to the contract. On Tuesday Kennedy brought suit to annul his marriage with Miss Prince. He alleged in his petition that he was forced into the marriage by threats to take his life if he refused, and that the threats were made not only by the father and brother of the young woman, but by her also. The petition said that he had never lived with her as his wife.

Under Arrest.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The postmaster general signed an order removing G. C. Wilson, postmaster at Milledgeville, Ga., and recognizing B. T. Bethune as temporary postmaster. An inspector has been at Milledgeville investigating the condition of the postoffice and recently displaced Wilson, giving the charge of the postoffice to Bethune, who was designated by the bondsmen. It is said at the department that Wilson is under arrest, but the nature of the charges against him is not stated.

Weinstock Indicted.

McConnelsville, O., Jan. 11.—The grand jury indicted Walter Weinstock for criminal assault and horribly mutilating Nellie Morris at Hackney last week. Miss Morris is recovering and now there is no doubt about a speedy trial. There is no talk whatever of lynching or any resort to violence. Weinstock is held in jail here without bail and the father of the mutilated girl has insisted on the law taking its course and advised all of his neighbors against any efforts at lynching.

Captain Singer arrived from Washington to determine whether the accused shall be tried by the civil or military authorities.

COPPER TOE NOW EXTINCT.

How the Boot Protector Was Invented by a Maine Farmer.

Children kick out the toes of their boots now just as much as they ever did, but the copper toe has gone out of date too long ago to talk about. It was fine, though, in its day. How the copper did wink and glitter in the firelight! Away up in the Maine woods a farmer who could not bear the thought of giving the shoemaker all he earned took an old copper washboiler and cut it into strips, which he fastened on the toes of the boots of Elbridge and Elmer, Ellsworth and Eddie.

"There now!" said he. "Less see you git through them in a hurry. Laws! I never see boys so hard on shoe leather!" It was a bright idea, and the more he thought about it the more it was borne in on him that it was a bright idea. He got a patent on it. Elbridge and Elmer, Ellsworth and Eddie were kind of ashamed to be seen in their copper toes at first, but when the other boys all crowded around them at the district school and said: "Gosh! Woosht my pa would fix my boots that way!" they felt more comfortable and rather happy. From that it went on till, for the sake of peace and quietness in the house, if for no other reason, fathers had to buy copper toed boots for their boys. The Maine farmer got rich and had pie three times a day and moved to town and had a haircloth sofa in the front room and a marble topped center table with wax flowers in a glass case on it and everything that heart could wish.

But foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child, and it is part of his nature to be hard on shoes. You may beat the laws of the universe for a little while when they are not looking, but not for long. The day came when the child woke up and realized that it was being robbed of its rights guaranteed under the constitution. Something like this, eh. "We, the children of the United States, in convention assembled, do hold these truths to be self evident?" Not at all, not at all. They said: "Hee! Coppertoes! Coppertoes!"

And the coon came down.—Harvey Sutherland in Ainslee's.
